

strengthening families

how programs help prevent child abuse and neglect

Excellent child- and family-serving programs use common strategies to build the protective factors known to reduce child abuse and neglect.

